Food is Medicine

A member of the California Food is Medicine Coalition (Cal FIMC), the Health Trust is a member of the Medi-Cal Medical Tailored Meal Program, the program that provides tailored meals for people with chronic health conditions.

Provider | Funder | Advocate

When tackling health disparities The Health Trust uses a multifaceted approach.

We provide direct services, fund community-based organizations whose work aligns with our mission, and advocate for policies and initiatives that help advance our mission.

Our ability to take on these three roles – provider, funder, and advocate – uniquely positions us to build health equity in Silicon Valley.
